Manager Comment
Year 2022 was not favorable to the Fixed Income space as it was impacted from unexpected benchmark rate increases during the year due to runaway inflation. However, Q4 '22 saw a rebound from the lows as many expected the Fed was nearing the end of its hiking cycle with inflation heading marginally lower. During December US Fed raised rates by 50 bps to complete a total of 425 bps for the year while inflation came lower at 7.1% YoY. During the Year US 10 Year moved from 1.51% to 3.87%. Also the US yield curve flattened during the year but elevated much higher compared to beginning of the year. Overall market expectation on the Fed is to hike about 25 bps in January and gradually go for a pause mode. Consensus expectation is for a mild recession in 2023 and many expect the Fed to pivot if recession becomes deeper than expected. Brent ended higher at c. USD 85.91 from USD 77.78 of the closing of 2021 amid geopolitical tension and coordinated supply cuts. However, it fell off from the highs of USD 127.98 in May. Elevated price levels have impacted GCC Sovereign's financial strength materially with improved outlook and increased reserve levels compared to last year. Consequently, spread levels of GCC credits remain at low levels historically. Regional IG and HY space still appear favorable compared to the global counterparts and will continue to attract flows from yield seeking investors. QNB Global Sukuk Fund was launched in October 2018 and has distributed eight coupons so far. Fund manager continues to seek for Sukuk Investments that would add value to the fund in the longer term. The Fund manager maintains a lower duration of c. 3 years until there is adequate normalization of rates.
